What are you doing to help the environment?

We all have heard about the effects of global warming and green house gasses, this is being produced in part by the amount of harmful waste being pumped into our atmosphere.

Standard diesel pollutes and can cause many afflictions including cancer as well as the significant load which is placed on the atmosphere. 220 are producing a product that is not only significantly BETTER for the environment, but is also BETTER for your engine and is CHEAPER than the forecourt prices.

Manufactures and Distributors

220 are manufactures and distributors of 220Bio™ a relatively new product to the UK which offers all the same properties as Diesel without huge adverse effects to the environment.
